School Committee

STANDING: E. French, F. Tschirch, M. Alper. SEATED: E. Waterman, H. Hogaphian, M. Medeiros.

Your School Committee congratulates you on the successful completion of your educational career at Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School. May your memories of its hallowed halls, your fellow students, and teachers always remain a fond one; and may you forever keep in mind, as we, your parents and administrators have, that education is the mainstay for the future of our country.

Harry Hagopian, Chairman

Carol Egan, Editor

Although our years in high school have now come to an end, we will frequently find ourselves reminiscing. We will remember most of all our senior year, for that is the pinnacle of our high school education. Who among us will ever forget the laughter and the studies that we shared with our fellow students? Who will ever forget the administration and faculty? No one will.

But our memories may become clouded and vague. The purpose of this yearbook is to stand as a living album of our senior year. These two covers house much more than mere pages. They store our brightest memories.

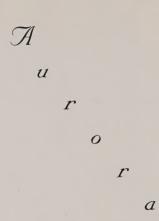

The yearbook staff has endeavored to produce a yearbook of which all of us can be proud. We sincerely hope that we have succeeded in our goal.

This yearbook would not have been possible without the guiding hand of Mrs. Smith. The whole staff wishes to thank her for her efforts.

We all hope that this yearbook will stand as a vivid memorial of the greatest years of our lives, to be read, reread, and read once again.

Dedication

In an infrequent burst of unanimity, we, the class of 1964, dedicate our yearbook to you, Mr. Harrington.

Like twin-visaged Janus, you have inspired us by your openmindedness, for in you we have seen a delicate blend of decisiveness, reason, determination and justice.

Fearless and Tireless Mediator in the innumerable clashes between classes, clubs, and wings, you have taught us patience and equity.

Scourge of the Five-Percenters, your firm hand has tempered our youthful waywardness and guided us in the ways of self-discipline. Your gentle wrath has instructed us far beyond that last, "That is all." Down the corridor of our future we shall hear resounding your simple request: "All I ask is that you be ladies and gentlemen."

Finally—of all epithets most prized—Educator, you have kept before us at all times our singular purpose in being here these four years; and you, more than any other person, have labored so successfully to establish the educational tone and ideals of our high school.

Appreciation

The Class of 1964 takes this opportunity to speak the bald truth about the contributions made to our class by you, Mr. Hathaway.

Seriously though, Mr. Hathaway, although we tease you about the breadth of your part, we recognize your baldness, as the Poet Arnold on another occasion once said, as the baldness of the mountain tops, a "baldness full of grandeur."

You have enriched the atmosphere of B wing, literally by the redolence of your dissections, and by your buoyant good spirits and friendly alacrity.

You have inspired us in the classroom, through your thoroughness of preparation and your enthusiasm of presentation, to discover the wonders of our environment.

You have encouraged us on the playing field and on the track to compete with determination and fairness.

And, finally, through your unusual talent and skill in photography, you have preserved our memories.

Appreciation

For us, Mrs. Smith, this is a double parting, and in this year of your retirement we take pause to express our appreciation for the innumerable ways you have helped us in our four years and the countless students who have preceded us.

Your short absence has given us a foretaste of how much Dighton-Rehoboth will miss you next year, for in that short time we grew to realize what an essential role you have played in all our activities and classes. Your absence quickened the hearts of the senior boys, and made the senior girls realize that they were still in keen competition with you for their affections.

As our Dean of Girls you have waged a relentless war on rising hemlines and rising hair-dos. Although we have affectionately dubbed you "Terror of the Corridors" and "Smith-the-Ripper," we recognize that anyone whose heart was so young that she would wear a grass skirt to a basketball game could be our friend as well as our teacher.

All of us who have been exposed to the Smith System of Mathematics will never forget My Dear Aunt Sally. The best part of the Smith System is not so much its time-saving shortcuts, but its practical, common-sense approach.

Finally, Mrs. Smith, we appreciate your untiring work with the Aurora, for by these efforts you have provided us with a living album of our high school memories.

FACULTY

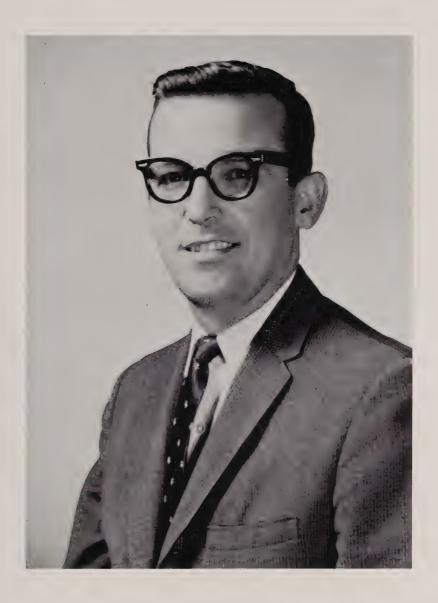

To the Members of the Class of 1964:

Many of us have set goals for ourselves that we may never reach, but in setting a goal we are attempting to make our lives the fullest.

May I wish the members of the Class of 1964 the best of luck in their future ventures.

Robert T. Roy
Superintendent of Schools

To the Class of 1964:

Early in your freshman year I outlined the responsibilities you had as the first class to attend D-R for four years. For the next four years I constantly reminded you of these responsibilities, and challenged you to distinguish yourselves with accomplishments that could be used as objectives for future classes. Your outstanding four year record attests to the fact that most of you accepted the challenge and worked diligently to meet these high standards. You can be very proud of your accomplishments. I am certain that for most of you it is just the beginning of a very bright future.

Congratulations and best wishes.

Sincerely, Joseph C. Harrington Principal

History of the Class of 1964

We, the Class of 1964, are the first class to have a four year history. On September 12, 1960, we met for the first time as freshmen. Awed by the immensity of our new school and armed with maps, we set out on a new adventure, our high school career.

We were soon adjusted to our new school. To the Student Council we elected Constance Atwood, Cynthia Dunne, Joyce Ingram, Peter Schutter, and Linda Spinney. Our class officers were Peter Schutter, President; Claudia Backland, Vice-President; Joyce Ingram, Secretary; and Victoria Barnes, Treasurer.

Aiding our football team in a fairly successful season of three wins and four losses were Robert Doe, Robert Dutra, Marvin Lacy, Wayne Tripp, Alan Sylvia, and Jay Wargat.

To the boys' basketball team we contributed Robert Dutra, Joseph Pavao, William Thomas, Jay Wargat, and two of the finest managers a D-R team will ever have, Kenneth Horrocks and Armen Casparian.

Although the girls' basketball season was not the best, good sportsmanship and high spirits were never lacking to our five freshmen: Constance Atwood, Cynthia Dunne, Joyce Ingram, Janis Blanchette, and Sandra Perry.

Keeping pace with older members, Peter Schutter, Clinton Baer, and Joseph Gailes were on the first D-R track team.

Baseball was "our sport." We were represented by seven promising players: Edward McCarthy, Joseph Pavao, John Pugliese, Donald Russell, William Thomas, James Redfern, and Dennis Violette. Thomas Lawrence, Gaylord Hoisington, and Kenneth Horrocks were managers of the team.

One freshman girl, Janis Blanchette, represented her class on the girls' softball team.

We returned the next fall as sophomores, and having so soon forgotten our own dismay, sent many freshmen wandering off in the wrong direction. Once again we elected Peter Schutter president of our class. We chose for vice-president, Linda Spinney; for secretary, Shirley Tracy; and for treasurer, Jeannie MacLeod. Our five student council members were Joyce Ingram, Joseph Pavao, Kenneth Santos, Linda Spinney, and Joanne Zandi.

Five former members of the football team returned: Robert Doe, Robert Dutra, Marvin Lacy, Wayne Tripp, and Jay Wargat. They were joined by Joseph Gailes, Gaylord Hoisington, Timo Karppinen, Kenneth Santos, and managers Thomas Lawrence and Peter Schutter.

Joyce Ingram, the youngest member of the cheerleading squad, was by no means the softest. Her energetic cheering spurred our boys on many times.

Victoria Barnes, Jean Shumway, and Beverly Ferreira were our majorettes. Cross Country runners were Clinton Baer, Joseph Pavao, and Donald Russell.

Elizabeth O'Connell and Robert Dutra represented our class in the Royal Mardi Gras Court.

On the varsity baseball team as sophomores were John Pugliese, Edward McCarthy, Donald Russell, Peter Stevens, and William Thomas. Joseph Pavao, Dennis Violette, and Jay Wargat were J.V. members of the team.

Five boys made the track team in the spring of 1962. They were: Clinton Baer, Joseph Gailes, Kenneth Horrocks, Kenneth Santos, and David Swanson.

We had a larger representation in girls' sports that year. On the girls' basketball team were Lyn Baldwin, Janis Blanchette, Constance Atwood, Joyce Ingram, and Sandra Perry. Janis Blanchette, Elaine Perry, Sandra Perry, and Jean Shunway showed the upperclassmen on the softball team the power of positive thinking, seasoned generously, of course, with skill and talent.

Our junior year began with the election of officers. Joseph Pavao was elected president; Linda Spinney, vice-president; Joyce Ingram, secretary; and Carolyn Woodcock, reasurer.

We were well represented on the student council with Peter Schutter as vice-president and Andrew Jennings as treasurer. Our other representatives were Joseph Pavao, Linda Spinney, Carolyn Woodcock, and Joanne Zandi.

As a new football season began, we found our boys contributing a great deal to the D-R team. In there fighting were Robert Doe, Robert Dutra, Joseph Gailes, Marvin Lacy, Kenneth Horrocks, Joseph Mederios, Wayne Tripp, Kenneth Santos, Alan Sylvia, Jay Wargat, and last but not least, manager Thomas Lawrence.

Cheering our boys on at all the games were our cheerleaders Joyce Ingram, Joanne Zandi, Sandra Perry and Leslie Foxwell. We couldn't have done without their enthusiastic support throughout the football and basketball seasons.

Leading the band were majorettes Patricia Plonka and Doreen VanDyke.

If you never went to a basketball game you missed seeing Joseph Pavao, William Thomas, and Dennis Violette in action. You also missed seeing the hard working managers Armen Casparian and Kenneth Horrocks.

Our men on the cross country team that year were Clinton Baer, Edward McCarthy, Joseph Pavao, and David Swanson.

The girls' basketball team put D-R in the winner's box many times. Seeing plenty of action were Lyn Baldwin, Janis Blanchette, Joyce Ingram, Sandra Perry, Doreen VanDyke, and manager Mary Ann Gracia.

At Mardi Gras time we chose Elaine Perry and Joseph Pavao to represent our class in the royal court.

As spring came around, we found Joseph Pavao, Donald Russell, Donald Sechler, Peter Stevens, William Thomas, and Dennis Violette on the baseball team. Our girls on the softball team were Janis Blanchette, Elaine Perry, and Sandra Perry. They lent strong support to the team.

Clinton Baer, Kenneth Horrocks, Ernest Orr, Kenneth Santos, Peter Schutter, Dana Tschirch, and Jay Wargat were our stars on the track team.

We were proud to have Andrew Jennings, Carol Egan, Joyce Ingram, Margaret Simmons, and Joanne Zandi inducted into the National Honor Society.

Our long-awaited senior year arrived. Class officers were Joseph Pavao, president; Kenneth Santos, vice-president; Joyce Ingram, secretary; and Carolyn Woodcock, treasurer. The student council was ably led by President Andrew Jennings, Secretary Margaret Simmons, and Treasurer Armen Casparian. Our other representatives were Joseph Pavao, Peter Schutter, Carolyn Woodcock, and Joanne Zandi.

Our football record was not the best, but the same cannot be said for our contribution to the football squad. These boys: Robert Dutra, Joseph Gailes, Kenneth Santos, Wayne Tripp, and Jay Wargat were always doing their best for our school.

School spirit was enhanced by the cheering of those four peppy girls: Captain Joanne Zandi, Joyce Ingram, Leslie Foxwell, and Sandra Perry.

Head majorette, Patricia Plonka, and Doreen VanDyke led the band and twirled with the greatest ability.

Our contribution to the cross country team was captain, Clinton, and David Swanson.

Joseph Pavao led the basketball team gallantly to a tremendous season. The team and coaches were greatly assisted by managers Armen Casparian and Kenneth Horrocks.

The girls' basketball team also enjoyed a great season. Co-captains were Janis Blanchette and Joyce Ingram. Other team members were Lyn Baldwin, Sandra Perry, Doreen VanKyke, and manager, Mary Ann Gracia.

In December, the greatest dramatic production of the year was presented—our senior class play, "The Mouse That Roared." It is the story of a minute European country, still living in the Middle Ages, which invades and attempts to take over the United States. A great time was had by all those who were involved.

The 1964 Mardi Gras leaves behind many memories especially for our Queen, Joanne Zandi, and King, Joseph Pavao. The royal court was composed of Sandra Perry, Robert Dutra, Carolyn Woodcock, Joseph Gailes, Lyn Baldwin, Donald Sechler, Catherine Gomes, Peter Schutter.

To the track team we donated the invaluable talent of Clinton Baer, Kenneth Horrocks, Ernest Orr, Kenneth Santos, Peter Schutter, and Dana Tschirch.

Thanks must be given to the baseball team members: Peter Stevens, Captain; Henry Harris, Edward McCarthy, Joseph Pavao, John Pugliese, Donald Russell, William Thomas, and Dennis Violette, and to the captain of the girls' softball team, Janis Blanchette, for a job well done.

In May, five more seniors were initiated into the National Honor Society. These are Constance Atwood, Claudia Backlund, Joseph Pavao, Peter Schutter, Jay Wargat, and Kenneth Horrocks.

We had the honor of having one of our classmates, Andrew Jennings, named a National Merit finalist. This year's choice for the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship Award was Joanne Zandi. The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award went to Claudia Backlund, and our Student Government Day Representative was Joseph Pavao.

Soon came the Senior Prom, Class Day, and then graduation. We shall never forget our four wonderful years at D-R.

Joanne Zandi Margaret Simmons Mary Ann Gracia

ERNEST ORR wishes to give his ability for quietness to Mr. Frates to use on any worthy Latin student.

JOE PAVAO leaves a deck of cards to the basketball players for their card games in Mr. Lelievre's chemical lab, and he hopes they enjoy "sacking out" in c-20.

KATHY PAVAO and CHERYL HORTON will their ability to play cards in study hall to anyone who thinks they can do it and not get caught.

To all our teachers we, the girls, leave our short skirts, teased hair, and culottes; while the boys bequeath their tight pants and long hair.

To the new Seniors, we leave a hall of your very own including a girls' room and a boy's room. Try to keep it free of underclassmen, if you can.

As we look back over the past four years, we realize that they were the best years of our lives, and that we will truly miss Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High.

Prophecy of Class of 1964

"Kinda spooky around here isn't it?"

"Yea, almost makes me wonder why I decided to sign up with Sargent Shriver!"

"What was that terrible noise I just heard?"

"I don't know! Let's get out of here!"

"Hey!" "Wait a minute, over there. Isn't that Carol "Bake" Baker? And here comes Dana "Tarzan" Tschirch with Sam "Boy" Pine and his favorite pal Ronnie "Chettea" Schaad."

"Hi, kids-what can I do for you?"

"Linda Spinney, what are you doing here? I thought you were going to Barrington College to study to be a teacher."

"Well, it's like this. I started to, but—it's a long story. Anyway, I wound up here. So, what's your reason for being here?"

"After taking that Home and Family course with Mrs. Anslow we decided that marriage wasn't for us. Especially if we couldn't marry a knight in shining armor like we wanted. We signed up with Sarg. and he sent us over here, supposedly to educate the natives. That is, if we can find the village."

"Oh, the village, that's over this way."

"Hey, isn't that Sandy Perry swinging from that vine over there?"

"Yes, she and Steve Parisi are practicing for our annual monkey swing."

"What ever happened to Bobby Benevides?"

"He finally popped the question and now he and Eva Ann Bilodeau are running the local library."

"Remember Richard Calisto and Kenny Santos? Well, they have their own band now called the 'Caltoes,' and Joanne Zandi and Peggy Simmons are their star dancers."

"And how is Lyn "Baldy" Baldwin?"

"Oh, she's still mothering over everyone—in fact she is Queen Mother of the Tribe! And 'Lady' Pat Hopkins is still waiting."

"Isn't that Donald 'Sec' Sechler over there sitting under that Yum Yum Tree? And who is that sitting on his lap?"

"Oh, that's Kathy Fredette. She finally made it from village recorder to private secretary."

"But, Linda, you haven't told us yet how you and everybody else arrived here."

"Tell us now won't you while we are going to the village."

"Well, I left Barrington wanting to become a missionary. Just before I left I met Kenny Horrocks in South Carolina and he decided to join me. On our way to New York we met Ruth Roska. She also joined us. We left Kennedy International Airport and landed here. Right in the middle of this jungle, we over-ran the airport a little."

"How did that happen?"

"Our pilot, Eddie LaFleur could probably give you a lot of reasons, but I'll tell you to save time. It was quite late and rather dark and Nancy Lyon, our stewardess, came down the aisle and I asked her when we were going to land. She said, 'any time now.' It seems that Joe Pavao read his map wrong and as a result we landed out here in the middle of nowhere. When we got the door of the plane opened, I climbed out. I heard this drumming noise. Kenny and Ruth were sure it was natives. Eagerly they set off to find them. I followed, hoping they would be friendly. Well, the natives turned out to be Ronnie LaChance and Leo Dupuis doing their version of 'Topsy' on the Signal drums.'

"So, then what happened?"

"They told us what trail to take; only they didn't warn us about the elephant traps and consequently Kenny and Ruth found them themselves. They were taken to Kasablanka General Hospital and they are under the care of Mary Ann Gracia, Eileen Holmes and Janet Horton, along with Rita Karppinen, Karen Richardson and Barbara Reed. Remember Barbara McGuire and Cynthia Dunne? They're working at the receptionist's desk at the hospital.

"Isn't that Bruce DeSilva and Robert Carlson? We better not disturb Bruce, he is probably looking for fossils."

"Aren't those signal drums I hear? Linda, do you know what they are saying?"

"Yes, they are saying that Russell DeBonis and Harry Johnson have just landed on the outskirts of the jungle with five hundred sailors. They also say that there is only one WAVE with them and that is Betty Otterson."

"Linda, isn't there a more civilized method of communication on this jungle-island?"

"Tommy Lawrence was trying to set up a radio station with Glen Doucette as the radio repairman."

"Oh, look, there is Jeff Philbrook drawing a picture of that pretty pond. And on the opposite shore it looks like Clinton Baer is doing something."

"Clinton is writing a book for some publishing co. in New York and Doreen Van Dyke is illustrating it."

Many of the members of the class of '64 seem to be here on this desolate spot.

That's not all of them though; Elizabeth Anderson and Wayne Tripp are drawing and painting pictures and posters to send back to the states as advertising for vacationing here. Ernie Orr is a biological scientist experimenting with the animals at Jay Wargat's animal hospital.

Peter Schutter heard that this was such a quiet place he decided to do his scientific research here.

"How much farther is it to the village? My feet hurt."

"Mine too. Are we getting closer to the village, we seem to be."

"We are. Donald Russell is the manager of the business that is just up the path a little way. Would you like to stop and see him?"

As the three weary travelers enter the building, they are overwhelmed at the number of people in the office that they know. Lucille Branco. Carol Cash and Florabelle Correia are typing up financial statements, Cheryl Horton and Mary Trahan are trying to figure out the filing system that Gloria Costa left when she took over the switchboard. Carolyn Giles, Kathy Horton, Carol McMahon and Kathy Pavao are attending to the I.B.M. machines.

After a short visit with Donald and his secretary, Valerie Francis, we left the building. In the driveway we meet Al Cunha who is coming to reupholster Donald's executive chair.

Within the next half hour we were on the main street of the village.

"Is that brick building a school?"

"Yes, it is. Claudia Backlund, "Rosey Babe" Gonsalves, Andrew Jennings, Bill Thomas and Janis Blanchette were on that plane with me when we landed here so they decided to educate the natives. Claud is head of the Eng. Dept. Rose is head of the Business Dept. Andrew the Math and Bill and Jan are heading the Physical Education Departments. Jeannie MacLeod and Barbara Powe, also on that ill-fated plane, are teaching at the elementary school."

"How did they ever get the natives to come?"

"Jim Redfern, the village truant officer, called a meeting with Queen Baldy. Of course, the natives were opposed to the whole situation but Tim Zucchi, head Witch Doctor, convinced them it would be best."

"What's this next mud hut?"

"This is known as the Village Bank."

"How come they check you so thoroughly when you go in?"

"That is because the chief of police, Ronnie Ammarello, requested his two top guards, Richard Shumway and Pete Stevens to check everyone since the million dollar diamond studded spear robbery."

"Well, look who the teller is, Chris Bright. Did you get lost on your way back from England?"

"Dave and Richie Waite started that bank but now they are starting another one further in the village. Come on, let's go to Sue Vermilyea's 'Wine and Dine Diner'."

"I hope they realize we're in here. It is awfully dark. Here comes the waiter. Freddy Reed! Well, of all people, how are you?"

"Say, isn't that Shirley Tracy, Kathy Randall and Marilyn Penna over there. Oh, you say Kathy and Marilyn work for Trace. Maybe sitting in that Economics class does really help."

"Look, Jimmy Ludovicz and Dave Swanson are shortorder cooks. And isn't that Eddy McCarthy building new counters?"

"Yes, Marvin "Merle" Lacy and Mike Dutra drew up the plans and Joe Gailes is installing the new lighting." "Brother, look at the crowd climbing out of that beach buggy, and they are all coming in here. There's Arman Casperian, John Chellel, Carol Egan, Sandy Freitas, Joyce Ingram, Mike Noonan and John Pugliese. From what I can hear of the conversation they are on field trips from college."

"We better call the airport and find out when the next plane is leaving for the states."

"The next plane for the states doesn't leave for the states until tomorrow morning. Is there some place around here where we could spend the night? I can't take much more of this sleeping in thatched-roofed huts on grass mats."

"Here we are at the hotel. There are Alice Amaral and Joanne Gentile at the desk. If you want to have your hair done before you leave, why don't you go to the beauty shop on the second floor. It's run by Elizabeth Ford and Mary Medeiros."

"Thanks, but if Colin Croome would show me to my room I'd be more than grateful."

Next Day—

"If we get a taxi we'll make it right on time. Here comes Alan Sylvia on his Black and White Taxisaurus. Alan, will you take us to the airport?"

"Well, Kasablanka Village, we're sorry to leave you after such a short stay, but I'm sure Sarg. will have another assignment for us when we get back to the USA."

"Here we are at the airport. Maybe we have time enough for a hot cup of coconut tea. Alan did get us here rather fast. Hey, look at the waitresses; Pat Plonka, Carolyn Woodcock, and Paula Gousie. Bob Dutra is the only waiter; wonder how he managed that?"

"Paula Dupont, the airport receptionist, just announced that our flight is leaving in 10 minutes. We have to get our tickets from Henry Harris. The plane mechanics, John Ferreira and Joe Medeiros, are already starting the propellers. We'd better be on our way."

"Boy, this is a classy plane. Here come the Stewardesses, Cathy Gomes and Donna Gailes."

"There's Connie Atwood. Hi, Connie, have you seen Eunie lately?"

"Hey, a bar!"

"I don't think I could take a drink just before takeoff. But look who the bartenders are. Charlie Debuque and Bruce McCracken."

"Here's hoping Timo Karppinen can read maps better than the last aviator did. Our pilot is Roger Rebeiro and the co-pilots are Denny Violette and Jim Varley. They seem like a steady enough group of flyers."

"Let's hope so!"
